

For immediate use
May 19, 2005

Education Foundation to publish new alumni directory in spring 2006

Graduates of all Bloomington high schools soon will receive a postcard from Harris Publishing. The publishing firm is gathering alumni information for the Education Foundation of Bloomington's new all-school alumni directory to be published in spring 2006.

"Alumni can expect to receive a postcard listing their name, high school and graduation year," said Karyn Arazi, president of the foundation. The card asks alumni to call Harris Publishing at a toll-free number to update their listing in the directory, said Arazi.

Alumni can conveniently order the 2006 directory when confirming their information. To publish the most accurate and complete directory possible, Harris staff will contact those who don't call back.

The new directory, which will include Jefferson, Kennedy, Lincoln and Bloomington alumni who give permission to use their information will be published in spring 2006. This is the third directory published by the foundation, said Arazi, a Lincoln alumna.